PRIDAY MORNING PEBRUARY 18, 1876

I will be observed that our usual amount of editorial and general news matter is greatly abridged this morning by the great length of the proceedings of the Babcock trial, which are just now deemed of paramount interest in this locality. The full text of the deposition of President Grant will be found in other columns, and will repay perusal. It bears the marks of truthfulness, frankness and unshaken confidence in the innocence and purity of a tried and faithful friend.

Tun Attorney General has found out at last that the Detective Press of New York will persise in believing what best suits its purposes, even to the questioning of his veracity and good faith, and it grieves him greatly to barn this truth. The Secretary of the Tre sury will learn it next.

Mr. PATTERSON, the new Delegate from Colorado, sequitted himself very creditably in the House on Wednesday in his advocacy of the interests of his constituents. His remarks commanded the attention of the House, which is a rare compliment to a new Delegate, while the success of his measure ar ues much in favor of the quality of his speech. Delegate Elkins was also quite efficient in arging the necessity of the appropriation.

"Asyrming to beat Grant" is not dead vet. "The Third Term" still haunts the visions of the Sun and Herald. It sticks out of alm -t every bill which is introduced into Congress by a Republican. It is a constant mentmare to the Ishmaelite of the Sun, and a perfect Banquo's ghost to the Herold. Now it is the Twenty-second joint rule, and again it is the prospective or embry States of Colorado and New Mexico. It is a most formidable ghost, It has been killed more times than Percy ever fell under the hand of Falstaff, but citizing to disturb the digestion and rest of this brace of unselfish, benign and selfsarrificing patriots. Their silly fears call to mind the culprit who sees a detective in each new comer, and is betrayed by his guilty starts and ill-concealed confusion up a the discovery of his mistake."

Tut New York Son, seconded by its codinter, the Herola of the same city, is taking the case of General Babcock out of court, and trying it upon false and caparte evidence in those two journals. Having condemned Babcock in advance, these two mombers of the Detective Press appear to feel the necessity of backing up their judgment by some show of testimony, and in , their selections rather prefer such as has been rejected by the court. Judge Knott raight take a hint from these journals, and instead of attempting to reorganize the Supreme Court, just introduce an amendto the Constitution of the United States abolishing all courts of law and all hars except the bar of public opinion as reflected through the columns of the Deective Press by Judges Bennett and Dana. What a world of expense and trouble this would save the "dear people" But would it not play the mischief with the law schools, though? Surely this is an age of progress !

Hos. WM. D. KELLEY will to morrow ustrate in a prepared speech the utility of his plan of converting the nation's due bills into the nation's notes bearing 3.63 interest payable in due-bills, with the privilege of again reconverting these notes back into non-maturing due bills again whenever one is tired of notes. He thinks the people are now so tired of their own (the nation's) due bills, which they can ban to each other on real estate security at seven to ten per cent. interest per annum, that they will gladly convert them into bonds, which will not be a legal tenler, bearing only 2.65 per annum interest. Perhaps he is right; but it is not very likely. The banks might convert them if they were allowed to count the bonds as their reserves, for they would thus gain just 3.65 per cent per annum on the amount of those reserves. But no one else could afford to do it. It is passing strange that the people who are constantly crying and beseeching for "more money should be the dupes of this fallacy

SENATOR GORDON must have been to some extent engaged in the business of President making. At all events the Augusta Chronicle seems to think so, and thus delivers itself of its true incordaces. But we thought, and still think, that it is Senator's duty to make laws, not Presiden and that if tieneral Gordon is the promounced partisan of Senator Thurman, or any other candidate, he should not be pur upon the National Executive Committee-more consciol as if has been charged that a copy of Southern Congressmen is endeavoring to seeme the South for this same gentleman. Species has draws fargely upon a very lively imaginati when he represents the 'Augusta editor burl agarness of envy and political spire' at fem-eral Gordon. Senator Gerdon knows very well, and those who rush to his deter ragerly englit to know, that there is no one in this to move and Senton office who wishes it 'hard strows of envy and political spite' a him. We simply wish him to let the people of Greigia decide for themselves who they will support for the tresidency. Only this and

Thurman will find Georgia "a hard road to travel," and if his friends do not send on these $3,000 another of his organs will go by the board, as the Atlanta Herold did. lew days since.

A COMMITTEE recently appointed by the Georgia Legislature to inquire into the means adopted in 1870 to secure the lease of the State road, leading from Atlanta to Chattanooga, have rendered a valuable service by showing that Democratic newspapers are not immaculate, and that they yearn after the flesh pots, and are posessed of itching palms. Hear the Atlanta Commonwealth upon the situation :

"The committee appointed by the General Assembly to investigate the charges made sgales; the lessess of the Western and Atlantic raiseout for using money to procure said Pase is compared of the following gentlemen of the Senate and House: Senators McDaniel, of the Twenty-seventh, chalman, and Dullose, of the Smete-nth; Representatives Walsh, of Rich mond; Peeples, of Gwinnett, and Smith, of Lowndes. At the meeting last night at the Markham house the committee examined Mr. Hemphill, of the Constitution, in relation to the charge that he had received $5,000 from the leases of the Western and Atlantic rallread for aiding in the procurement of the lease. Upon the direct question being put Mr. Hemphill stated that he had received that amount of money. This settles the question at issue, and establishes the fact, beyond peradventure, that the lease was framiliently ob-tained. In the course of the examination of Governor Brown last night he stated to the committee that $31,000 had been used in the curement of the lease of the State roat, sition to the lease, and he thought it was right and proper to use the money to secure it. He charge. Here is an instance where the Government can with grace "turn out a hand."

On the morning of December 1, while at anchor On the morning of December I, while at anchor in the harbor of Para, the Dingby, riding at the port-boom, capaired and got loose from her moor i gs, and the very strong flood-tide (about four knots an hour) swept the boat rapidly astern. One of the crew of the Dingby continued to cling to her, but from his fright, or from accident, lost his hold, from which moment his life was much in peril. As soon as the danger became apparent, and before a boat could possibly be manned, Deneef jumped overboard from the port gangway, and from his presence of mind and physical strength succeeded in getting his shipmate on to the Dingby, and kept him there until assistance from the ship could be rendered and both men were taken into a cutter. taken into a cutter.

General Order No. 204.

The Department has noticed, with regret:
the frequency of punishments inflicted upon the culisted men on board of some of the ships now in commission—no one punishment, per-haps, exerciting the law, but some command-ing officers, taking advantage of the law, inliet punishment for slight offences so fre mently as to harnes the men and create dis content, without adding to the efficiency of their ships or the maintenance of discipline. The Department, without taking more decided action at present, would suggest to or manufing officers to try the experiment of for-bearance and consideration for the feelings of the men, and endeavor to induce cheerfu obedience by granting indulgences, instead of coercing reluctant obedience through fear of punishment.

If these means fall then they can resort to punishment, for the Department does not de-sire nor intend that the efficiency of the may shall be impaired by any undue leniency, nor will it canction any willful disregard of law will it cancilon any words or disrespect to anthority.
